

UNDERWEAR

THE RIGHT KIND AT THE RIGHT PRICES

MEN'S---WOMEN'S---CHILDREN'S

Men's Shirts or Drawers.....	25c
Men's Shirts or Drawers.....	48c, 95c suit
Women's Vests or Pants.....	25c
Women's Vests or Pants.....	48c, 95c suit
Women's Union Suits.....	48c
Women's Union Suits.....	$1.00
Boys' and Girls' Union Suits, 2 to 14 years.....	25c
Boys' and Girls' Union Suits, 4 to 14 years.....	50c
Misses' Union Suits, 14 to 17 years.....	60c and 65c
Boys' Shirts or Drawers.....	25c
Children's Vests or Pants, 2 to 15 years.....	25c

Better values can not be had for the same prices. See our line before buying. We also carry a full line of hosiery and sell the best Men's Sweater Coats in town for $1.00.

THE ECONOMY STORE

RAINSBORO.

October 14, 1912.

Miss Anna Keeler left Sunday for a few days visit with her sister in Covington, Ky.

Lloyd Garrett, of Morilltown, Ark., and Miss Bessie Anderson, of Lebanon, have been spending a few days at the home of their uncle, V. R. Garrett.

Miss Grace Deakyne, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Mrs. J. B. Davis.

Rev. W. E. Shriver and wife attended the funeral of a relative at Greenfield Friday morning.

Archie Taggart and wife, of Toledo, spent part of last week here with the former's parents.

John Ladd, of Ft. Worth, Tex., arrived here last week for a visit with his brother, Denison.

Miss Ada Baker, of Hillsboro, was a guest of friends here the latter part of the week.

Emery Rhoades and Miss Martha Ridgway were married by Rev. W. E. Shriver at the M. E. parsonage on Sunday morning in the presence of a few friends.

Oscar King and wife, of Peebles, and Mrs. Mary Clark, of Bainbridge, were guests of J. A. Beaver and wife Thursday night.

Rev. J. E. H. Sentman, of Williamsburg, has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Ladd, the past week.

R. B. Barrett, of Norwood, has been spending a few days with relatives here.

Homer Garrett and wife, of Washington C. H., were guests of relatives here last week.

Miss Elva Davis returned to her home in Cincinnati on Sunday, after a short visit with her parents, Rev. J. H. Davis and wife.

J. C. Harrington and wife, of West-boro, spent several days here last week at the home of his brother.

T. M. Thoroman and wife and Drenan McKenzle and wife, of Adams Co., were guests of Frank Spargur and wife part of last week.

J. A. Head and family, of Hillsboro, were guests of J. B. Davis and wife Sunday.

Mrs. Shriver, of Adams Co., is the guest of her son at the M. E. parsonage this week.

Harvey Lafferty, of Pittsburg, Pa., who has been visiting his mother here, left for home last Saturday.

L. W. Spargur, of Seaman, spent part of last week the guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Pulse and family.

Ralph Grim and wife, of Greenfield, were guests of her parents, Thomas Barrett and wife, part of last week.

Last Friday evening marked the close of the most successful fair ever held here. The weather was ideal, the crowds immense and the displays in each department were far superior to those of previous years. In addition to the displays offered for premiums, C. C. Muhlbach, of Hillsboro, had a very fine display of fruits and vegetables that was the admiration of every one. The tent of the Agricultural Dep't. of Wooster, and also the tuberculin tests and lectures were new features this year, that were of much benefit to the farming class of people.

Bjorbs—Does Longbow ever tell the truth?

Slobbs—Well, I caught him in the truth once, but he tried to lie out of it.—Philadelphia Record.

Artist—I think I've got a good joke this time, what?

The Editor—You're right. It is a good joke—I always laugh at this one before I reject it; done it for years.—Sketch.

DODSONVILLE.

Oct. 14, 1912.

Napoleon Shaffer and Josh Stumbargh spent Sunday with Bill Thomas and wife, at Littleton.

Earnest Taylor, of Hoaglands, took dinner with Leonard and Curtis Aber Sunday.

Harry Ellis and family spent a few days last week with relatives at Norwood and Middletown.

Joel Conard made a business trip to Cincinnati Wednesday.

T. E. Aber and son, Curtis, made a business trip to Harwood Saturday.

Ben Wilkin, who has been working at Circleville for some time, has returned home.

Mrs. Ella Briggs and daughters spent Sunday with her parents, P. L. Baker and wife.

Mrs. John Hawk, of Fayetteville, spent several days last week with her parents, George Taylor and wife.

Ed Runyon and family were calling on the latter's sister, Mrs. Nancy Moore, of Harwood, last week.

Rose Stroup spent Sunday with her cousin, Miss Leona Stroup.

Earl Stroup made a business trip to Cincinnati one day last week.

Henry Miller and sister, Ella, are spending a few days with friends at Xenia.

Al Tedrick was calling on Cal Stroup and wife Sunday.

James Taylor and family, of Hoaglands Crossing, were the guests of J. A. Armentrout and family Sunday.

Mrs. George McClellan, who has been sick for some time, is no better.

Mrs. Earl Stroup was calling on Mrs. Charles Wolf from Thursday afternoon.

HIGHLAND.

Oct. 14, 1912.

R. O. Wood and wife were visiting their son, Lewis and family, and attending the fair at Rainsboro Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

F. M. Horsman and E. T. Rayburn made a business trip to Cincinnati on Wednesday.

Mrs. Samuel Clark and daughter came down from Columbus last week and will make their home with her father, Samuel McClure.

T. S. Woodmansee and wife were visiting at the home of his son, in Washington, C. H., Thursday.

Mrs. E. M. Johnson went to Delaware on Tuesday to attend the branch meeting of the W. F. M. S. at that place.

Terry and Chas. Slaughter, of Leesburg, with their families spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Mary Terry.

Miss Flora Smith, of Blanchester, was visiting her cousin, Mrs. Jones, of this place, Sunday.

Edward Thornburg and family, of New Vienna, came to the home of Wilbur Thornburg and wife Sunday to celebrate the 75th birthday of their mother, Mrs. Francis Thornburg.

Dr. Orebaugh and family are preparing to move to their new home in Norwood. A physician by the name of Frame, from near Zanesville, will be here soon to take his place.

Jas. Adams and wife and Frank Horsman and wife made an auto trip to Springfield on Sunday.

Miss Ollie Shoemaker, of East Monroe, visited Samuel Challenger and wife last week.

He—Does a woman when she's married expect her husband to tell her his business affairs?

She—I don't know; but a woman expects a man to talk business when he's courting her.—Boston Transcript.

The mechanism and driver's seat in a new German war aeroplane are surrounded by an armored cylinder, proof against bullet.

WORKINGS OF THE CAMORRA

How an Englishman Was Politely Mugged of $300 by Italian Society.

A paean of rejoicings has gone up in print over the verdict on the Camorra prisoners at Viterbo, and it is stated—rather previously, I fear—that the great secret society of Italy has been scotched. That Naples will no longer be its headquarters is probable, but it is so widely spread over the whole of Italy that it can be no more killed by imprisoning its Neapolitan leaders than you can kill an octopus by cutting off one of its tentacles. The society has local branches in every town of importance, and it adapts its methods to the status of the people whom it bleeds.

How polite the Camorristi can be a true tale of how an Englishman subscribed to its funds will show. The Englishman in question, a married man, took a house in one of the seaport towns of Italy, not Naples, and brought his English furniture with him. A month or two after he had taken up residence, a very polite Italian gentleman called on him and presented him with a bill for $300 for furniture bought from an Italian firm. The Englishman said that there must be some mistake, for he had bought no furniture in Italy, and his visitor then explained that the bill was the means by which he might subscribe to the local branch of the Camorra, and thus obtain its protection. There was no hurry about the matter, said the polite Italian, and if the Englishman did not care to pay at once the matter might stand over for six months.

The Englishman went to his consul, who referred him to the local head of the police. The local head of the police, talking as an official, promised him every protection if he did not intend to give the money, but as a private individual, suggested to him that $300 was not very much to pay to avoid all the anxiety that was entailed by being in the black books of the Camorra. The Englishman paid his $300 and holds the bill, duly receipted, for purely imaginary furniture, bought from a purely imaginary Italian firm.

CLAIMED FOR NEW YORK CITY

Origin of Popular Expression, "Let Her Go, Gallagher!" Said to Have Originated There.

The expression "Let her go, Gallagher!" is in use in nearly every city of the United States, and has traveled to foreign countries, yet it is doubtful if many can tell the origin of it. A group of men recently met in New York city and soon were talking of events that happened many years ago. One of them told the story of "Let her go, Gallagher," and vouches for the truth of it, as he was present at the time it began.

"A number of delegates," said the veteran, "representing the Chicago fire department came to visit the New York fire ladders in the early 70s. They were shown about fire headquarters and inspected the different systems. Then they desired to see some of the crack companies. Their escorts brought them to hook and ladder No. 14, in East 125th street, and while examining the apparatus an alarm was sounded from the West Side. Capt. Henry M. Jones made the visitors jump on the sides of the fire truck and accompany the fire fighters to the blaze.

"Peter Gallagher was the driver of the team, and he quickly got to his seat on the truck. It swung out to the street, and the driver guided the horses to straighten out the ponderous machine. When in a position to take full speed and dash to the place where the alarm was sounded Captain Jones yelled to the driver, 'Let her go, Gallagher!'

"The visiting firemen never forgot the command, and thus began the famous old saying that is in vogue today."

Human Hair-Nets.

The annual sale of nets of human hair, according to the report of the American consul at Kehl, estimated at 12,000,000.

Hair-nets are made almost wholly in the houses of Alsatian and Austrian peasants; the peculiar skill required to net hair has become in part hereditary.

The children begin first to tie the hairs together, end to end, to make one long hair. Then, with only a round piece of wood about six inches long and one-half inch in diameter and a needle, the older girls and women—and sometimes the men—weave the nets. Each mesh is knotted in much the same way that fish-nets or hammocks are made. Only tying a single hair is a more delicate and difficult task than tying a string.

To make a dozen nets is a day's work of ten or twelve hours.

Fact About the Mushroom.

A well-known botanist says that mushrooms might properly be called vegetable meat and used as a substitute for animal food. "It is doubtful, however, if this is true," says the American Medical association. "The more we learn of mushrooms, the more it becomes apparent that they are scarcely different as regards dietary virtues from the general run of the green vegetables which have never achieved the distinction of any unique or superior nutritive properties. They belong rather to that large group of food materials which we consume for reasons quite apart from the yield of nourishment which they have to offer to the body."

ADDED TO THE GOOD TIME

Bear Story, Though Short, Was a Thing of Consequence to Those Silent Mountaineers.

There were six stalwart pioneers who settled in Upshur county, West Virginia, long before the war, when there wasn't "a stick amiss" and hunting was good. They were brothers and their name was Phillips.

Each fall after hog-killing time they held a family reunion, at which a feast fit for the gods was partaken of in silence, except for the blessing, which was always asked by the eldest brother. They did not believe in much talk or levity. When they spoke it was usually in monosyllables. After dinner they would sit around the big log fireplace, tilted back in split bottom chairs, and smoke their corn-cob pipes in silence until it was time to go home and do the chores.

At one of the reunions something of unusual interest occurred—one of the boys told a bear story. While sitting around the fire smoking one of the brothers pushed up his sleeve, exposing a badly lacerated arm. The five gazed at it in respectful silence for a few moments. Their experience in the mountains told them that their brother had a hand to hand fight with a bear. One of them opened the ensuing dialogue with:

"Um-mph—bar?"

"Yea-ah."

"What?"

"Over thar," jerking his thumb back over his shoulder in the direction of Beech mountain.

After this bear story of five words they smoked in silence until it was time to go home. For months after that reunion they would remark to visiting neighbors that they had "a powerful fine time at Eben's reunion."

It was remarkable, because they had had a bear story in addition to the blessing, which was a powerful lot of talk for these silent men.

TRACE ALPHABET FAR BACK

Belief That It Had Its Origin With the Phoenicians Proved to Be a Wrong One.

In a lecture at the Royal Institute Prof. Filanders Petrie attacked the long accepted theory that the origin of the alphabet is to be found in Phoenicia, whence it came from Egyptian hieroglyphics.

According to Professor Petrie, the researches of the last twenty years have shown that signs were earlier than pictures and that it was the sign that survived to become the alpha and beta of another civilization and the A B C of another.

Just as the philologist had discovered one entire system of languages, so the alphabetarian had discovered in the diversity of alphabets an original prototype of all. In Professor Petrie's words, "The Phoenicians are people of yesterday compared with those who wrote the signs that are the origin of all alphabets."

It was to pottery, said the professor, that Egyptologists and others were indebted for these signs, and their development was worked out on these lines. Flatnose made a pot and put a mark on it to show that it was his. In time, because it was his mark, the sign stood for Flatnose himself, and then the sign became attached to a sound irrespective of the thing itself. Gradually the wearing down went on until the sign stood, not for a sound, but a syllable, and then for a letter.

The signs, of course, were not an alphabet; that did not arrive until perhaps 1,000 B. C., whereas signs were found in early prehistoric Egypt, probably 7,000 B. C. Proofs of this common origin were plentiful, for the signs spread by trade far north and south, and appeared similarly in Runic, Iberian and Karian, and yet were unknown in Phoenician.

When Eloquence Didn't Work.

There is such a thing as being too eager, as witness the following remark:

"Yes," said the statesman, "I defeated myself by my own eloquence once."

"How was that?"

"I was a candidate for the nomination to congress, and I got up and made a speech to the convention, in which I just naturally flung Old Glory, with a capital O and a capital G, to the breeze in so enthusiastic a manner that I took the house by storm. I dilated on the greatness of our country and on the responsibilities of the man who should be called to make its laws, till one old fellow from a back country got up and said that I had convinced him that it was too big a job for so young a man as I was to tackle, so he moved that the convention nominate a man of more experience; and, by gee, they did it."

Hardly a Compliment.

It is said that General Crittenden used to tell with great glee of what his small son, then eight or nine years old, said to him a day or two after the battle of Chickamauga. The general had ridden during the battle a horse, named John Jay that was a great favorite with the little fellow. The child, visiting the camp, asked after the horse and was told that in the fight he had acted badly, insisting upon taking his rider to the rear.

The boy considered gravely a moment, then, shaking a remonstrating finger, cried:

"Papa, that must have been your work. I know John Jay would never have acted like that of his own free will!"

Sheriff's Sale.

A. L. Vaughn vs. M. D. Stewart et al, Highland Court of Common Pleas, Case No. 892.

ORDER OF SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY IN EXECUTION.

In pursuance of an order issued from the Court of Common Pleas within and for the County of Highland and State of Ohio, made at the October term thereof, A. D. 1912, and to me directed, I will offer for sale at Public Auction, at the door of the Court House, in Liberty township, Highland County, State of Ohio, on Monday, October 28,

at 1 o'clock p. m. of said day the following described Personal Property, to-wit:

One Bay Mare, 4 years old.

One Peabody Buggy, rubber tire.

One set of Buggy Harness.

One Robe.

One Horse Blanket.

Taken as the property of defendant, John Stewart, on execution in favor of plaintiff in above entitled cause.

Terms of Sale—Cash.

CAREY LONG,

Sheriff of Highland County, Ohio.

GEO. L. GARRETT, Attorney. adv

HOLLOWTOWN.

October 14, 1912.

J. W. Morgan spent part of last week looking for a location in Brown Co.

S. A. Marconet and wife were entertained by Alvin Donohoo and wife, Sunday.

Boyt Mock is still improving.

John King and family spent Sunday with J. J. Davidson and wife.

Burch Moberly and family entertained Jacob Ridings and wife, of Mt. Oreb, Sunday.

Mrs. Malinda King is visiting with friends and relatives at White Oak and Buford.

Dexter Carpenter is still confined to his bed.

William Custer and family were entertained by W. H. Vance and wife at Hillsboro Sunday.

FORT HILL.

October 14, 1912.

Chester Rhoads and wife and Miss Grace Williams were the guests of James Rhoads and family of near Sinking Spring, Sunday.

Mrs. Nancy Havens, of Good Hope, is the guest of her son, J. P. Havens and family.

Fred Rhoads and family spent Sunday with Joseph Deardoff and family.

Miss Blanche Havens and Eva Cartwright spent Sunday with Miss Albie Burns, of near Byington.

Minnie Skeens spent Tuesday night with her grandmother, Mrs. James Puckett, of near Sinking Spring.

Misses Jane and Grace Havens and George and Alma Countryman called on H. V. Matthews and wife Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Stults spent Sunday with Wm. Staley and wife.

O. W. McLaren and wife and Alva Easter and wife, of near Samantha, spent Sunday with Joseph West and family.

J. L. Reed and wife spent Thursday night with their son, Manlove, of near Sinking Spring.

Mrs. Maud Matthews called on Mrs. Carl Phillips, of Sinking Spring, Saturday afternoon.

James Deardoff and Miss Albie Burns spent Thursday night the guest of the former's uncle, Will Caplinger, and wife at New Petersburg.

Ray Washburn and wife, Arza and Fay Washburn and lady friends, of near Rainsboro, were visitors at the home of I. W. Stults and wife Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie Rhoads is very poorly.

D. S. Matthews, of Greenfield, is the guest of his son, H. V. Matthews.

Bessie Turner called on Mrs. Anna Deardoff Friday afternoon.

George Burns, of Collison, Ill., is visiting relatives here.

Lawrence Kessler and wife called on relatives at Sinking Spring Sunday.

George Countryman will leave Saturday for Middletown to visit his parents.

E. M. Kelley and family, of Hillsboro, spent Sunday at Butler Springs.

The man who wishes to get to the front must not spend too much time turning to see what the men back of him are doing.—Chicago Record-Herald.

"Have you noticed the astonishingly mussy way in which Mrs. Delancy Browne dresses her hair?"

"Mussy? Why, that's the Marie Antoinette."

"Is? No wonder they cut off her head."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In one year 4472 hours of sunshine are possible, but there are not many places where the maximum is experienced.

Wireless apparatus which has worked successfully from heights of 2000 feet has been perfected by a French aviator.

"I want to sue him for defamation of character. He called me a crook."

"That doesn't mean anything these days," said the lawyer. "I wouldn't get excited over a little thing like that."—Pittsburg Post.

Peoples' Column

FOR SALE.

Farm and Town property always for sale. Money loaned on Real Estate. WADE TURNER, Merchants Bank Bldg.

Huber Engine for sale or trade. (tf) O. C. BOBB.

A wood Heating Stove for sale cheap. Inquire 760 S. High St. adv.

Get your fertilizer at The Hillsboro Hardware Co. (10-19) adv.

If you want a polled Jersey bull, a Short Horn bull, a Shropshire ram or a Poland China boar, call Foster H. G. Bell, Marshall, O. (tf) adv

FOR SALE—100 choice breeding ewes. A few pure bred bucks. Inquire of E. S. King, Hillsboro, Ohio. Home Phone.

For Rent—6 room frame house, centrally located, modern improvements. Call Home Phone No. 152 or 264. adv (tf)

Some day you will be obliged to wear the Satisfactory Kind of Eye Glasses.

Your eyes can't endure indifference, neither can you.

Why Not Now?

Today is the day of satisfaction in eye experience. Are you using your eyes?

"The Most Modern Eyesight"

Dr. C. F. Faris,

THE EXCLUSIVE OPTICIAN

EXAMINATION FREE

Office 1 door East of Economy store. Main Street, Hillsboro, O.

Notice to Contractors.

State Highway Department.

Columbus, Ohio, October 12, 1912.

Scaled proposals will be received at the office of the County Commissioners of Highland County, Hillsboro, Ohio, until two o'clock p. m. November 2, 1912, for grading and paving with a waterbound macadam the Belfast-Fairfax Road, State Highway "C," Pet. 455, in Jackson Twp., Highland County, Length 7500 ft. or 1.50 miles, width 6 pavement 10 ft. Estimated cost of construction $678.00. A draft or certified check for $800.00 shall be deposited with each bid.</